Welcome to the 2023 AzLA Annual Conference!

Welcome to the 2023 Annual AzLA Conference!

Thank you for joining us for this incredible opportunity to learn and share with each other over the next two days. As president of our association, I extend my sincerest gratitude to the conference committee for investing their time, energy, and creativity to provide an outstanding event for us to enjoy.

We are committed to elevating your conference experience and providing you with a multitude of learning opportunities to help you in your endeavors in the library realm. Our hope is that by the end of our conference, you will feel uplifted and inspired, that you will have learned something new, and that you have made new friends and reconnected with old friends. We encourage you to forge connections that you can look to for support in your continued efforts to serve your community whoever that community is.

Make sure you visit the exhibit hall and visit with our wonderful exhibitors. We greatly appreciate their support of our conference this year!

Once again, welcome! We know that attending the conference can be challenging. We are grateful for your attendance!

PreConference Full Day Sessions

Let's Move in Libraries! How 1,000+ public libraries started promoting fun, physical activity, and how you can too!

Presented by Dr. Noah Lenstra

Description: StoryWalks, Yoga storytimes, sidewalk obstacle courses, nature hikes, falls prevention classes for older adults. These are just some of the hundreds of ways public librarians across North America (and beyond!) promote fun, physical activities in their communities. This workshop introduces the idea of public libraries as partners in the promotion of healthy living, and shares how you too can be successful by forming, leveraging, and sustaining community partnerships, with everyone from Yoga instructors to hospital outreach staff to Area Agencies on Aging. Learn how to build library staff confidence in building and participating in community partnerships that magnify the role public libraries play as key contributors to healthy living.

The day is divided into four sections:

- Introduction to Let's Move in Libraries and who public librarians got involved in the promotion of active, healthy living
- Who cares about healthy living in my community and region? Identifying and reaching out to potential partners
- From plans to actions: Developing and delivering active living programs with partners
- Library advocacy, health advocacy, and storytelling – communicating the difference you and your partners make

By the end of this workshop you'll be able to communicate how and why public libraries get involved in active, healthy living promotion, and you'll have a plan in place to try something new with your community.

"Controlled Digital Lending: Past, Present, Future"

Controlled Digital Lending (CDL) encompasses practices and technologies that enable libraries to lend digital surrogates of their print materials. It is one approach among a broader set of digital circulation services that include the lending of licensed materials, the distribution of open-access and in copyright materials, and the secure sharing of born-digital materials. This presentation will discuss past and current projects in Controlled Digital Lending, why it matters, and what the future of this practice might entail. The presentation will also solicit audience and expert feedback on current projects in CDL and talk together about how we might advance as a community in the resource-sharing space.

5:00 End

PreConference Half Day Sessions

Explore STEM with Young Learners 9am-12pm

Description: Quality STEM programming can be a challenge to develop or identify for many libraries. Early Childhood focused STEM can be even more difficult, especially for libraries or districts with limited exposure to best practices in STEM Learning for that age group. This workshop will focus on an early childhood STEM Learning series developed by Kalman Mannis of the Arizona Science Center and Jeannie Colton from ASU's Center for Innovation in Informal STEM Learning (CIISL) and funded by a grant from NASA's Science Activation 2.0 Broadening Participation with Ecosystems. The workshop will follow a book created by Kalman and Jeannie using six units that encourage youth to explore, question, and learn by doing. The workshop will provide an opportunity to delve into the materials, work collaboratively, and discuss how the activities can be integrated into current or planned programming. Additional resources will be shared from AZ Science Center and CIISL. One book per library with staff attending the workshop will be provided. Prepared kits developed for the activities will be provided as door prizes.

Eclipse and the Helio Big Year 1pm-4pm

Description: Join Kal Mannis from the AZ Science Center and Jeannie Colton from ASU's Center for the Innovation in Informal STEM Learning (CIISL) who will showcase, demonstrate, and help with the co-creation of library-centric programs around the Helio (Sun) Big Year. This workshop will be very hands-on with participants watching, learning, and doing NASA-developed youth & adult-oriented activities that spotlight the Eclipses, the Earth/Sun/Moon system, Community Science projects, NASA Helio Big Year, and astronomy programming that supports community engagement. Bring your laptop to view digital resources. Expect to walk away with an eclipse viewing apparatus that you will build.

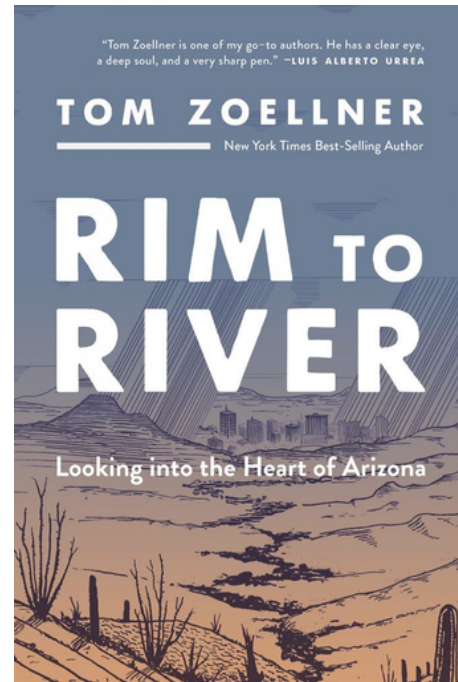

Thursday, October 19 Opening Keynote

Dr. Sarah J. Tracy

Dr. Sarah J. Tracy (Ph.D., University of Colorado) is School Director and Professor of organizational communication, leadership, and workplace wellbeing in The Hugh Downs School of Human Communication at Arizona State University. Sarah has published two books and more than 100 scholarly monographs, and has delivered over 75 keynotes and workshops worldwide for a variety of universities and organizations. As Distinguished Scholar of The National Communication Association and Distinguished Teacher of The Western States Communication Association, her work inspires communication that builds resilience in the face of organizational disruption, burnout, and stress. Furthermore, Sarah regularly serves as a media resource—on topics such as leadership, toxic positivity, and work-life balance—contributing to outlets such as National Public Radio, The Today Show, The Phoenix Business Journal, and The Arizona Republic.

Thursday, October 19 Lunchtime Author Speaker Tom Zoellner

Tom Zoellner, a fifth-generation Arizonan, is the author of eight nonfiction books, including The Heartless Stone, Uranium, The National Road, and Island on Fire, which won the 2020 National Book Critics Circle Award and was a finalist for the Bancroft Prize. In 2019, he walked the entire length of Arizona to get a better understanding of his home state, and the result was the essay collection Rim to River: Looking into the Heart of Arizona published by the University of Arizona Press in 2023.

Friday, October 20 Opening Keynote

Dr. Noah Lenstra

Dr. Lenstra is an Associate Professor of Library and Information Science in the School of Education at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro (UNCG) where he brings a community organizing approach to the study and teaching of public librarianship. Notably, Noah founded the Let's Move in Libraries Initiative, which focuses on supporting healthy living in public libraries. The project was inspired by Former First Lady Michelle Obama's Let's Move! initiative, which focused on increasing Healthy Eating and Active Living (HEAL) among Americans. Let's Move in Libraries continues Obama's legacy by working to increase physical activity and nutrition through libraries in the U.S., Canada, and other places in the world. Noah has a special interest in supporting healthy aging through public library partnerships, and he is an affiliated faculty member in the Gerontology Program at UNCG. He received a Master's degree and a PhD in Library & Information Science from the University of Illinois.

Friday, October 20

Closing Keynote

Arizona Secretary of State

Adrian Fontes

In 2022, Adrian Fontes was elected as Arizona's 21st Secretary of State. Secretary Fontes is a proud Arizona native, an honorable veteran of the United States Marine Corps, and the father of three daughters, who has spent a lifetime fighting for justice and defending our Democracy.

Secretary Fontes served on active duty from 1992 to 1996 and was nominated for a meritorious commission. His service to our country taught him the importance of dedication, discipline, and sacrifice to forcefully fight for the American dream.

After graduating from law school, Secretary Fontes spent his career advocating for justice and fighting for those who are disadvantaged — first as a prosecutor with the Denver District Attorney and then at the Maricopa County Attorney's office. He later led the International Prosecution Unit at the Arizona Attorney General's Office. He practiced law for 15 years before running for office in 2016 when he was elected Maricopa County Recorder.

As Recorder, Secretary Fontes revolutionized the election system by ensuring that every eligible Arizonan had the access they needed to vote. Adrian enhanced ballot tracking technology and increased process transparency, winning recognition and awards from election organizations across the country.

In 2020, at the height of the Covid-19 crisis and amidst violent protests, Maricopa County saw record voter turnout, as well as record numbers of new voters registered for both parties. Secretary Fontes later testified before Congress to inform them of threats facing election officials.

Secretary Fontes is committed to preserving integrity in our elections, making voting easier for registered voters, and ensuring that Arizona's business community has a non-partisan partner in the Secretary's office.

As Secretary of State, he serves as a member of the U.S. Election Assistance Commission Standards Board, and servers on its Standards & Practices and Voluntary Voting System Guidelines committees.
